

MIT AITI Mobile Application
Development in Java
Nigeria, Summer 2012

Lab 4: GPS Tracker

1. Start by creating a basic application that implements Android Location Services.
2. Use Toast to update the user of a certain condition. You can notify them of anything you wish, such as proximity to a certain location, exceeding a certain speed, or travelling a certain distance.
3. Use maps to display the path that the phone has travelled from start to finish.